

Document A

Source: Map created from various sources.

Florida during the Second Seminole War, 1835–1842

EV

Document Analysis

1. Name three major battles in the Second Seminole War.
2. What type of land is most common in those battle site regions?
3. How far was the fighting from major US cities of the era? How might this have affected the US government's ability to fight the war?
4. How does the map help explain the strength of Seminole resistance?

Document B

Source: Photo by Tom Corser, 2009.

Note: The photo shows a hammock of cypress trees in the Everglades. A hammock is a forested area that grows above a marsh or wetland.

EV

Document Analysis

1. How easy or difficult would it be to travel through a hammock like this one?
2. Would this be a good place to fight a defensive battle? Why or why not?
3. How does this document help explain why Seminole resistance was so strong?